MORE STEEL PLANTS ARE RESUMING

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Republic Steel Corp., the nation's third largest steel producer, said wildcat strikers were returning to work today and some operations were being resumed in all departments.

The walkout at Republic is the last remaining basic steel strike in a wave of such wildcat actions that involved about 30,000 workers. The men went out Wednesday after expiration of the United Steelworkers Union three-year contract, and in disregard of a two-week extension which was agreed to in New York City.

The union president, David J. McDonald, recessed negotiations with 12 major steel companies Thursday and took the lead in urging a return to work.

The negotiations with 12 major steel companies were curtailed both Thursday and today as a result of the walkouts.

One of two sessions was cancelled Thursday while McDonald and his aides moved to get the men back to work.

Again today the talks were recessed for the weekend after only an hour's session. A joint announcement said the past week had been "exceedingly wearing" and it was felt that problems could be attacked better after a weekend of "rest and meditation." (Turn to Page Fourteen)

Convict Wanted For Abduction Is Apprehended

KANSAS CITY (AP)—An ex-convict wanted in connection with the abduction of seven persons in Denver was arrested here Thursday.

Police said George Herbert Cody, 31, Hayward, Calif., was driving a car taken from an abduction victim when he was stopped by two Kansas City policemen. He didn't resist arrest.

Cody was released from San Quentin Prison in California three weeks ago after serving three years for writing bad checks. He told police he had hitchhiked to Denver.

Li Harry Wolfer, in charge of the Denver homicide unit, said Cody has been identified as the man who forced his way into a car occupied by Mrs. Warren Burst, 32, and her four children at Lakewood, a Denver suburb, Thursday.

Mrs. Burst was forced to drive into Denver's business section, where the man left the car.

Police Capt. Wayne Gibson said Cody told him he hopped into the back seat of a car in Denver and told the occupants to drive him out of town.

The victims in the second car were Mrs. Susan Hindlemann, 29, the driver, and her mother, Mamie F. Wolff, 54, both of Denver.

They were released near Carson City, Colo. Neither the two women nor Mrs. Burst and her children were harmed.

Cody was driving Mrs. Hindlemann's car when arrested here.

Well Known Area Youth Is Accidentally Electrocuted At Work Near Greensburg

Tom Fedorchuk, 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Metro Fedorchuk of Mead Run road in Youngsville RD, was killed instantly late Thursday afternoon in Greensburg, when he came in contact with a 12,000-volt line of West Penn Power Company and became the first fatal accident victim in the 42-year history of the Howard Tree Export Company.

Young Fedorchuk, who began his employment with the local firm last year, was a member of a four-man crew sent to Greensburg a couple of weeks ago for tree-trimming and repair on a private estate on Shuey avenue.

Robert Pierce, 217 Parker street, was foreman on the job and was so upset by the accident that he required medical attention afterward. The two remaining crew members are from the Marienville area.

Robert Weakley, head of the Howard Tree Export Company, told the Times-Mirror this morning he had talked with his foreman after the accident and the latter was unable to offer any explanation for the tragedy.

Pierce reported he was working in the same tree, a few feet above Fedorchuk, who was strapped into his saddle harness. He stated he could only guess the younger man's mind had wandered momentarily from the job and his left hand touched the wire as his arm brushed by it. He did not have a tool of any sort in his hand, the foreman said.

An ambulance was summoned immediately, but the local man was pronounced dead on arrival at Westmoreland Hospital at 5:05. Mr. Pierce stated he believed death had been instantaneous and the victim never knew what happened.

Mr. Weakley said young Fedorchuk's death was the first fatality of any type and the first wire accident the firm has ever experienced. His men, he stated, do not normally work on what is termed "line clearance" jobs, but are given the same safety instruction as crews of other firms so engaged and have a great respect for power lines as accident potentialities.

Mr. Pierce relayed the information he had warned the other men only a short time before the accident to "be extra careful, for those are 'hot' wires."

Tom Fedorchuk attended Youngsville schools and held the rank of private first class in Company I, Pennsylvania National Guard. He enlisted in (Turn to Page Fourteen)

Modern Traffic Deadly Peril to Wagon Train

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP)—The pioneers who traveled the Oregon Trail faced only the threat of hostile Indians.

Their modern-day counterparts—the people with the Oregon Centennial wagon train—face a peril that is even more deadly in casualties: Modern traffic.

The seven covered wagons in the Oregon centennial group are pulling into this southern Idaho town today for the Fourth of July weekend. The train wants to avoid heavy holiday traffic.

Backstage, the members of the cast, musicians, and the opera company, along with the theater workmen, stood by while Elizabeth and Philip spoke to the players.

The Queen went whistle-stopping Thursday. Huge crowds thronged the streets of half a dozen small towns in western Ontario. Many others stood at crossroads and country lanes. Elizabeth went out to the rear platform to acknowledge the applause.

Her itinerary today was to take her through a number of other small towns. She will be sailing to Chicago on Monday aboard the royal yacht Britannia.

Honeymoon in Bomb Shelter Called Off

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A prospective bride couple has called off the bomb-shelter honeymoon that was to follow their wedding Sunday.

Kelly Geiger, 25, and Nancy Bellmyre, 23, said Thursday that they were dismayed at the publicity resulting from their original announcement.

Bomb shelter manufacturers dreamed up the stunt.

Castro Shows Concern Over Rebel Activity

By ROBERT BERRELEZ
HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Widespread troop movements were reported today in Cuba with Fidel Castro's government showing concern over mounting counterrevolutionary activity.

Secret police seized an arms cache in a Havana suburb Thursday. They arrested eight men in a case they described as having "the most important counterrevolutionary implications."

Troop reinforcements are reportedly moving into eastern Cuba, where 41 persons have been arrested for acts of sabotage, and into western Cuba, where guerrilla bands are operating in the mountains.

Much of the unrest stems from the government's agrarian reform program breaking up big estates.

Among the eight men seized in the Havana raid were six police described as "former military men." The implication was they served in the forces under former dictator Fulgencio Batista.

Behind the plot, police said, were ex-Sen. Rolando Masferrer, now in Miami, Fla., and Jose Pedraza, a former general who now shares Batista's exile in the Dominican Republic.

The upsurge of anti-Castro activity during the past month, with a rash of minor explosions and acts of sabotage, has brought a government order decreeing the death sentence for counterrevolutionary acts.

The unrest shook the revolutionary armed forces when air force commander Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz resigned, charging Communist infiltration of both the armed forces and the government.

Prime Minister Castro told a television audience that Diaz's resignation was a "traitorous act," timed to coincide with a (Turn to Page Fourteen)

Governor Signs Nat'l Defense Education Bill

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence Thursday signed an appropriation of $400,000 to launch Pennsylvania's participation in the National Defense Education Act.

Under the act, federal funds are distributed to the states on a matching basis to improve educational programs. The money will be used to get the program started until the Legislature approves a budget for 1959-61.

At the same time Lawrence signed a measure which specifies that exemption certificates from the state 3½ per cent sales tax shall be presumed to be taken in good faith unless proved otherwise by the Department of Revenue.

KOZLOV OFF ON SWING OF NATION

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov left today for a sightseeing tour of the United States with the remark that there is "nothing at all for us to fight about."

Kozlov, his diplomatic mission to Washington completed with no easing of the East-West deadlock over Berlin, took off in a chartered commercial airliner on a nonstop flight to Sacramento, Calif.

Starting a 10-day swing through half a dozen cities, he planned to lunch with California's Gov. Edmund G. Brown. Then it was on to San Francisco for more sightseeing and meetings with local citizenry.

Even as he was waiting to board the plane at National Airport, Kozlov continued his talks with U.S. officials. His discussions during a 2½-day visit to the capital produced nothing new on the U.S.-Soviet standoff on the German crisis.

Kozlov told Asst. Secretary of State Livingston T. Merchant, who was seeing the Red visitor off, that both the Soviet Union and the United States have great natural resources, and made his remark about there being nothing to fight about.

The silver-haired, 50-year-old Kremlin official was all smiles as he formally bade farewell to the people of Washington, and started off on what he has jokingly called his "Communist infiltration" of the United States.

Kozlov's diplomatic pursuits wound up Thursday night with a big reception at the Soviet embassy. (Turn to Page Fourteen)

Tractor-Trailer Loaded With Film In Fatal Accident

STEPHENS CITY, Va. (AP)—A southbound automobile drifted across two of U.S. 11's three lanes in pre-dawn darkness today and collided with a tractor-trailer just north of here. All four occupants in the car were killed.

State trooper J. H. Smith, Jr., identified three of the victims as Robert D. Cole, 19, of Colmar, Pa., the driver of the car; Gladys Blanche Cole, about 50, also of Colmar; and James E. Kir, 20, of McComas, W. Va. The fourth victim was tentatively identified as Wanda Cole, about 17, of Colmar.

Smith said the tractor-trailer, loaded with movie film, was headed north a mile north of here about 4:15 a.m. (EST) when the Cole car drifted across the highway. The truck struck the right side of the car, he said.

Howard L. Athizer of Salem, Va., driver of the truck, suffered head injuries and a burned arm.

Both the car and the trailer were demolished. Damage to the tractor and trailer was estimated at $10,000. No estimate was made on the lost movie film, being taken from Salem to Washington, D.C.

Smith said he could not determine what caused the Cole car to drift across the straight stretch of highway. Visibility, he said, was good with no fog or rain.

Death Sentence Decreed for Ohio Woman Slayer

By HAROLD HARRISON
CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Unless higher courts or the governor intervene, Edythe Margaret Klumpp, 41, must die in Ohio's electric chair for the slaying of Louise Bergen.

Mrs. Klumpp stared stony-faced as the jury of six men and six women filed in Thursday night. She never changed expression as, four minutes later, the clerk read the verdict of guilty of first-degree murder.

When the 3½-week trial was adjourned, Mrs. Klumpp told Bailiff William Wiggerting, "Let's get out of here." She was hustled off to her cell.

Mrs. Klumpp, twice divorced and another of four, was convicted of shooting and beating Mrs. Bergen, 32, to death last Oct. 30. She and Mrs. Bergen's estranged husband William, 30, had been living (Turn to Page Fourteen)

Extended Weather Forecast Favorable

The Associated Press
Extended forecast for Saturday, July 4, through Wednesday, July 8:

Western Pennsylvania: Temperatures will average 2 to 4 degrees above normal in north portion and near or a little above normal in south portion. Warmer over the weekend, cooler Monday, warmer Tuesday and Wednesday. Showers Sunday and possibly again Wednesday.

Brass bands, lavish and colorful floats, water-logged firemen and a dazzling fireworks display will highlight tomorrow's observance in Warren of our nation's 189th year of independence. The Jaycees, coupled with the Cornplanters, stand ready to unleash as fast paced, exciting and varied a 4th of July program as the community has ever enjoyed.

Looming large in tomorrow's schedule is the streamlined, extravagant two-hour parade which is set to move promptly at 11:00 a. m. With fourteen divisions the parade will be one of the largest ever witnessed here and John Evans, parade chairman, announces that musical units and float entries are of the highest quality. A late entry to the parade is a top flight drum corps from Johnsonburg, the Red Rockets.

Every effort has been made to keep the parade tightly knit and closed up. Toward this end, the Committee has positioned the reviewing stand at the Conewango Avenue entrance to Beatty School. Wreckers will be stationed along the parade route to assist floats or other vehicles that stall along the way, and radio cars in the line of march will help keep the divisions closed up.

First event of the two day Celebration will be the selection of the Celebration Queen who will reign not only on the (Turn to Page Fourteen)

Electric Brains Bear Brunt of Pentagon Fire

WASHINGTON (AP)—Electric brain machines that cost millions of dollars bore the brunt of the damage as a four-hour fire disrupted normal activities in the Pentagon.

The fire burned out the heart of the 400-square-foot Air Force statistical center Thursday but was limited to that area of the huge building, the nerve center of the U.S. armed forces.

Key personnel remained on duty, but most of the 30,000 military and civilian employees were sent home when the blaze affected electrical and water supplies. They will return Monday.

In the windowless, ground-level area where the fire burned, the computing machines stood today like the hulks of charred packing crates. Around them were shelves after shelf of film reels which had held about 7,000 rolls of magnetic tape—the "memory" devices for the expensive machines. They contained chiefly personnel data.

Some secret papers also were burned, but Pentagon officials said most if not all the lost data can be replaced.

THREE HELD IN CANADIAN BOND THEFT

CHICAGO (AP)—A story of international high finance was unfolded by the FBI in the wake of the arrest of three men in connection with the theft of 8½ million dollars in Canadian bonds.

The FBI called the theft the biggest burglary in the world. The bonds, plus cash and jewelry, were taken May 3, 1958, from the Brockville Trust and Savings Co., Brockville, Ont., by a gang of safecrackers using blowtorches.

The FBI said men seized Thursday all were involved in attempts to dispose of part of the loot. One of their schemes, said U.S. Asst. Atty. James B. Parsons, was to try to purchase a European bank as a clearing house.

Arrested were three Americans—among five persons named in a suppressed indictment returned by a federal grand jury here June 30. The other two are Canadians still at large.

Captured were Sam Mannarino, 53, New Kensington, Pa.; Norman Rothman, 44, Surfside, Fla., who is under indictment in Pittsburgh for running guns to Cuba; and William Rabin, 52, Chicago.

Mannarino was arraigned in Pittsburgh before U.S. Commissioner Alex. McLaughlin and freed on $5,000 bond.

Rabin, a business consultant, was free on bond at the time of his arrest in Miami on earlier charges he received $38,000 in stolen bonds.

Still being sought are Rene Robert and Giuseppe Corbini, both of (Turn to Page Fourteen)

Long Planning To Launch Campaign After Heart Check

By ERNEST BARTON
NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Gov. Earl K. Long clung today to his plan to launch a re-election campaign Saturday. His final decision apparently rested on an electrocardiograph damage check on his ailing heart.

"He's in bad shape," said Dr. Paul Pratt, a psychiatrist assigned to Long.

The 63-year-old Long—one week out of a mental hospital—suddenly abandoned his temporary capital in a pine-shaded Covington motel Thursday night and was driven about 40 miles south to New Orleans. He ate a hearty dinner, heart tests were started immediately, and he retired early.

In the turbulent week since he won release from a mental hospital, Long's capital has been wherever he happened to hang his wide-brimmed hat—Covington Thursday, New Orleans today and by nightfall, according to the schedule, Baton Rouge, the state's regular capital.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's new 48-star flag comes officially into existence at one minute past midnight tonight. It will take the place of the 48-star banner that has symbolized America for 47 years.
Designed for inclusion of Alaska as the 49th state, the new red, white and blue standard will be raised in colorful ceremonies at Ft. McHenry in Baltimore and at Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl DeStefano, of Pittsburgh, are parents of a son born July 2 in St. Clair Hospital. The new arrival tipped the scales at eight pounds and twelve ounces, and was named James Vincent. Mr. DeStefano is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James DeStefano, 912 Fourth avenue.

SUGAR GROVE

SUGAR GROVE — Mr. and Mrs. George Cheshire and children, Marc, Eddy, Almee and Joe, of Seattle, Wash., have been guests of her sister, Mrs. Roy Allenson, and family the past two weeks.

This week saw completion of hard-topping of all borough streets in a program started last fall by a Butler company.

A foot-pound is the quantity of work expended in raising a weight of one pound through a vertical distance of one foot.

The Capitol and the White House also will hoist new flags.

Many other government buildings will continue to fly the old 48-star flag because hundreds are still on hand. It will be legal, both for the government and for private citizens, to fly the old-style banners until they wear out.

Alaska became the 49th state last January, but under the law a new flag's birthday must await July 4. Hawaii is expected to become the 50th state soon, but a new 50-star flag will not become official until July 4, 1960.

The last change in the flag was in 1912. Then, in the administration of President William Howard Taft, stars were added for New Mexico, admitted Jan. 6, and Arizona, brought into the union Feb. 14.

The new 48-star flag has a field of seven staggered rows of seven stars each. It is not definite what the new 50th star flag will look like.

Accident Restoring Hearing To Boy Deaf Since His Birth
GARDEN GROVE, Calif. (AP)—Two months ago 4-year-old J. Byron Patterson dashed into the street, was hit by a car and dragged 44 feet.
A leg and ribs were broken. He underwent four-hour brain surgery for multiple head injuries.
Yet his mother says: "For his sake, it's the best thing that has ever happened."
Since the accident the boy, almost deaf since birth, has begun to hear.
Now the tinkle of the ice cream vendor's bell, the slam of the car door when his father returns from work, his mother's voice all have become part of his small world.
J. Byron—the J doesn't stand for anything, and he's called "J.B."—is a handsome, healthy-looking youngster who gets his kicks these days out of trying to understand the words family members speak to him.
He wore a hearing aid before the accident. But it didn't help.

much. He couldn't hear well enough to learn to talk.
"It was in the hospital that we first noticed he was regaining his hearing," says his mother Dorothy. "I took him a picture of the family to keep him company. I started to point out his brothers and sisters and he began to pull at his ear."
"Since he came home he has started making sounds. Right now he sounds like a baby, but then he has a lot of time to make up for."
J.B. is enjoying life as never before with his four brothers and a sister. His father Floyd is a tool engineer.
Doctors think the head injury may have alleviated a blood deficiency. Soon the boy will undergo extensive tests to determine exactly how much hearing he has gained.
Says his mother, happily: "We had planned to enter him in a school for the deaf in September. The accident. But it didn't help. But now we may not have to."

Since the accident the boy, almost deaf since birth, has begun to hear.
Now the tinkle of the ice cream vendor's bell, the slam of the car door when his father returns from work, his mother's voice all have become part of his small world.
J. Byron—the J doesn't stand for anything, and he's called "J.B."—is a handsome, healthy-looking youngster who gets his kicks these days out of trying to understand the words family members speak to him.
He wore a hearing aid before the accident. But it didn't help.

much. He couldn't hear well enough to learn to talk.
"It was in the hospital that we first noticed he was regaining his hearing," says his mother Dorothy. "I took him a picture of the family to keep him company. I started to point out his brothers and sisters and he began to pull at his ear."
"Since he came home he has started making sounds. Right now he sounds like a baby, but then he has a lot of time to make up for."
J.B. is enjoying life as never before with his four brothers and a sister. His father Floyd is a tool engineer.
Doctors think the head injury may have alleviated a blood deficiency. Soon the boy will undergo extensive tests to determine exactly how much hearing he has gained.
Says his mother, happily: "We had planned to enter him in a school for the deaf in September. The accident. But it didn't help. But now we may not have to."

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — My 6-year-old daughter, Tracy, and I were down on the floor struggling for an object she held in her hands.

"Let go, kid," I told her. "I'll give you 50 cents for it."

"No, daddy, no," she cried.

"Let go, baby," I grated, "or I'll break both your pretty little arms."

"No, daddy, no! It's mine!"

Just then my wife, Frances, entered.

"What are you two fighting over?" she asked absent-mindedly.

"I was just teaching the kid a new judo hold," I said, rising.

"He was not, Mommy," said Tracy. "He was trying to take my cookie away from me."

"I'd be ashamed," scolded Frances. "A grown man trying to steal a cookie from his own daughter!"

"I wasn't trying to steal it all," I answered. "I was only trying to steal half of it."

Actually, that was a fib. I had meant to steal the whole cookie. And I didn't even feel ashamed.

A desperate man on a diet knows no shame. All he knows is hunger.

Yep, I'm back on a diet again. That's been my life for 22 years—three months on the chow wagon, three months off. Three months of building myself up, three months of tearing myself down. Three months of addition, three months of subtraction. Three months of living, three months of dietary dying.

This is my 55th diet. This time I went on it for a different reason. I thought I was getting hard of hearing.

"It's my ears, Doc," I told the physician. "I can't seem to hear what people are saying."

"Your ears are okay," he replied, after an examination. "The trouble with you is that you should weigh 170 pounds and you weigh 215. The extra 45 pounds are all on your stomach. It sticks out so far people can't get close enough to make you hear them unless they shout."

"Quit mauling, Doc. I can't understand a word you're saying."

"You heard me!" he shouted, cupping his hands. "Go on a diet!"

And so I have.

Everything reminds you of food. I catch myself stopping outside delicatessen stores just to read the names of the sandwiches in the window.

Twice a day I go out in the kitchen and watch the cat gorge itself. I'm hungry enough to eat a buffalo. That's why I don't dare go to the zoo anymore. They have a buffalo there.

"It isn't normal for anyone to be so interested in food after the age of 40," remarked my wife one day.

"Who is really normal, over 40 anyway?" I asked her. "It isn't even normal to be 40."

Well, by starving all day and staying awake half the night counting calories instead of sheep, I have taken off 15 of those excess 45 pounds.

My stomach is shrinking. I am beginning to hear people better again. And you know what? Nobody has said one darned thing I haven't heard a million times before in my life.

Is dieting really worthwhile?

Couple Wed in Prison Camp Reunited After 14 Years

CHICAGO (AP)—They met again after 14 years quite by coincidence in a city of some four million people.

And Wednesday another step was taken to fit together the jagged pieces of the lives of a man and woman who first became acquainted in a displaced persons camp and married in the turmoil of postwar Europe.

The story really begins with their marriage.

Janusz Zelaskiewicz was a Polish soldier who spent most of World War II as a German prisoner of war. He met Maria Michalczuk in the DP camp while working with a U. S. Army labor company. They married in Herten, Germany, on Nov. 5, 1945.

The newlyweds were separated in the postwar chaos. Janusz was transferred to France with the labor group. Marie remained in Germany with their infant daughter, Stanislaw. They lost all contact.

They neither saw nor heard from one another until the chance meeting in Chicago last year.

After the joyous shock, Janusz, now about 36, and Marie, about 31, decided they still were in love and wanted to be together.

After their separation, Janusz heard that his wife was dead; relatives said they had attended her funeral. There was no word of the baby.

Janusz settled in Chicago in 1950 and found work as a skilled laborer. He also met Irena Bielinska and they married on Nov. 10, 1951. They have three children.

But Marie was not dead. She sought her husband through the International Refugee Organization but learned nothing. IRO listed Janusz as "lost."

Marie later married Czeslaw Zawojcki. They have four children. All were born in the United States where Marie and Czeslaw came in 1950.

Marie was granted a divorce last March. She was given custody of two children, her husband two.

Janusz Wednesday filed a petition in Superior Court for annulment of his marriage to Irena, offering to pay support for their three children.

If granted, he will return to Marie. Their daughter was adopted by Zawojcki when he married Marie, and legal action is necessary in the case.

News of Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD, CALIF. (AP) — Strange things were happening on the "Spartacus" set — Tony Curtis in a Roman tunic reciting poetry to a jazz background.

This served to confirm my suspicions that the Roman epic is one of the wackiest film projects in recent times. It has become legendary already and is being left to end.

Production started in January, and there's a question if it will ever stop. "Oh, yes," he commented an aide. "They're planning a combination finish-of-the-picture and Christmas party."

Not so, said Kirk Douglas, whose company is making "Spartacus" for Universal-International.

"But we're talking in terms of seasons 'now, not months," he cracked. "We will shoot through the summer and finish in the autumn."

Douglas reported that the bill for "Spartacus" will come to eight or nine million.

He defended the lengthy shooting schedule by saying it was a monumental chore to arrange schedules for such stars as Laurence Olivier, Charles Laughton, Peter Ustinov, Jean Simmons and Tony Curtis. But he feels it was worth the effort. "Our emphasis is on story," he said, "and we're getting some fabulous performances."

Oh, yes. About Curtis and his poetry.

They were shooting a campfire scene with other escaped slaves in which Curtis was doing some entertainment. He was called upon to recite poetry. Taking a tip from the beatniks, he did it to a jazz record. He'll redo the sound later for the sound track with more appropriate mood music.

Says Delinquency Best Fought in Public Schools

By G. K. HODENFIELD

Associated Press Education Writer

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The public school is the best place to fight juvenile delinquency, but it's going to be a long and expensive battle, an expert said here Wednesday.

Dr. William C. Kvaraceus, director of a study of delinquency for the National Education Assn., told a news conference: "Schools get the kids early in life and keep them for a long time. They have a team of trained operators and, they usually have good relationships with the parents—much better, for instance, than do the police."

Kvaraceus, who will report on the study to the NEA's annual convention, said public schools should have the money, the staff and the facilities to spot the potential delinquent early, develop a varied curriculum slanted toward individual needs and abilities, develop special classes for emotionally and socially disturbed children, and develop competent teachers willing to work with dirty, misbehaving children.

Kvaraceus said about one per cent of the nation's school children are so emotionally disturbed they shouldn't be in school and another two to four per cent should be in special classes.

The threat of an open break in the NEA over wording of a resolution on racial integration in public schools appeared to be easing.

Delegates to the convention were closing ranks behind a softly worded statement.

A statement was adopted at the Cleveland convention last year, saying all citizens should approach the matter in a "spirit of fair play, good will and respect for the law."

That resolution will be put up Friday for vote by the full convention.

NEW YORK (AP) — Alitalia, Italy's transatlantic airline, set records in passenger traffic last month, Fabrizio Sereno, North American general manager, said.

The airline carried 3,904 east-bound passengers from New York and Boston to Europe, compared with 1931 in June last year.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — A total of 110 industrial plants went into operation in Puerto Rico in the fiscal year ended June 30, Teodoro Moscoso, head of the commonwealth's economic development administration, said.

This was the first time the 100 mark was reached during any fiscal year since Puerto Rico's "operation bootstrap" started in 1949.

The latest additions brought the total number of industrial plants in Puerto Rico to 570. Ninety-seven were opened in the previous fiscal year.

DON'T BE ONE OF THE "OTHER GUYS"
Accidents killed 655 "other guys" during the Fourth of July holiday last year.
Three hundred and seventy "other guys" died in traffic, 192 by drowning and 93 in miscellaneous accidents.
Not one of those 655 thought an accident could or would happen to him.
The "other guy" is all of us. No one is immune from accidents. Or rather, everyone is immune to the extent of his own caution or common sense.
This Fourth of July—like last year's—is a three-day weekend holiday for millions of Americans. The National Safety Council has warned that motorists will clog highways and funseekers will jam parks, lakes and picnic grounds. The time will be ripe for some kind of accident.
Don't you be one of the "other guys" this Independence Day.

GRAND AND GLORIOUS FOURTH
This year, again, thanks to hard-working and enthusiastic officers and members of the Warren Chapter of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, residents of the area prepare for Independence Day with eager anticipation.
Our close contacts with the various committee chairmen justifies the assurance that everything is in readiness for just the kind of an old-fashioned celebration that most folks thoroughly enjoy, beginning with the Queen Selection ceremonies this evening, and ending with a display of fireworks and distribution of grand prizes some time Saturday night between ten o'clock and midnight.
Each year one hears old-timers remark that Independence Day isn't what it used to be. In too many communities the booming of fireworks, oratory and parades have passed into limbo to be replaced by quiet family gatherings and private pursuits.
Yet this new mood is not due to patriotism going out of style. Perhaps it is because we are beginning to realize that "independence" is no longer an adequate word to describe the great event we celebrate.

Just who is independent today and what are they independent of? Not of government bureaucracy—sometimes good and sometimes bad. Not of foreign entanglements and responsibilities—which years of isolationism have proved to be inevitable, if not vitally necessary to the preservation of our nation.
Just how many of us would want to be independent today, if we could—independent of strong central government, allies, taxes and all the services that taxes pay for?
We must remember that the Continental Congress asserted that the colonies should be not only independent but free. There is a difference.
The founders of this nation believed that governments exist to make men free and to help them enjoy their freedom. Their tie to Britain was a bar to this goal so they wrote a Declaration of Independence.
Yes, it is freedom that we really celebrate today. But it was not secured to us by the men of '76 for all time to come. It is something that each generation must earn and preserve for itself.

WORLD TODAY
By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union get along better when they stick to dancing. Everybody liked everybody during the Bolshevik "two months' stay in this country."
But the 100 nimble-footed Russians left just a few days before the arrival here late in June of Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov. He smiled and was jolly and was pretty nimble too in hopping around to see everything.
Then suddenly Thursday he sounded like his boss, Premier Nikita Khrushchev: he gave a very chilly warning that the Soviet Union would meet force with force if the United States resorted to military action in the Berlin crisis.
His statement followed by a few hours published reports in this country that Khrushchev was very tough in talking about Berlin to former Gov. W. Averell Harriman of New York in Moscow. There was an air of gloom-and-doom about the reports.
They were put in perspective after when Lincoln White, the state department's press officer, said he didn't know of any American alarm over what Khrushchev is alleged to have told Harriman.
But why should there be? There's nothing new in Khrushchev's being tough about Berlin. And since Kozlov is Khrushchev's messenger, there's nothing very surprising about his comments either. He could hardly do anything but echo his boss.
Khrushchev has talked tough about Berlin all along, ever since last Nov. 27.
That's when he first warned the Western Allies to get their troops out of West Berlin. Since he knew this would create a crisis—whose end no one could be sure of—it must be assumed his warning was well thought out.
And no wonder. West Berlin, although 110 miles inside Communist East Germany, is occupied by Allied troops and a population whose allegiance is to West Germany. It's been a pain to the Soviet Union since the end of the war.
It was so much of a pain that Joseph Stalin, more than 10 years ago, tried to force the Allies out by blockading the city. President Harry Truman broke that with the airlift. There was only one reason he could get away with it.
At that time this country—which had the atom bomb while Stalin didn't—was militarily stronger. The Soviets for 10 years then played quiet on Berlin—until they were equally strong with bombs and missiles.
The fact that Khrushchev said "Get out" last November—after waiting 10 years to resume where Stalin left off—is pretty good evidence he feels powerful enough to get away with it. It's a gamble, (Turn to Page Seven)

ALASKA

Here and There
An Associated Press dispatch received too late for publication in Thursday's issue says President Eisenhower has announced that a 49-star flag will be raised over Independence Hall in Philadelphia on July 4, then taken to the Capitol in Alaska. President Eisenhower presented the Flag Thursday to Senator Hugh Scott at a White House ceremony attended by Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton. The first official raising of a 49-star flag will be held July 4 at Fort McHenry in Baltimore, where Francis Scott Key wrote the Star-Spangled Banner. It will be flown there at 12:01 a.m.
The Eagle Screamed in Warren seventy years ago, according to stories printed in the papers of July, 1889. We are reminded of a column advertisement printed on page four of the Weekly Mirror June 29, 1889 which conveyed the following information, in bold type: "1776-1889: July 4th: At Warren, Pa.: The largest Celebration ever known in Northwest Pennsylvania! $3,000 in Amusements! 15 Brass Bands! All entries for all races must be made to George O. Cornelius. Everything will occur on the Warren side of the river. No bridge money; no gate money. August Morck, Jr., president; George O. Cornelius, vice president; Marshal of the Day, George P. Orr.
Seventy years ago they were arguing about new stars in the flag, as is noted in an editorial comment in the same issue which says: "The forty-two star flags seem a little premature, as the law provides as follows: 'On the admission of a new state into the Union one star shall be added to the flag of the Union and such addition shall take effect on the Fourth of July then next succeeding such admission.' According to the above the flags are just one year ahead of time!" Another item in the same column of much interest to the business section at the time had this to say: "Warren is soon to be favored with a new clothing store, Henry Lesser, who has served a long apprenticeship with George Ball and James Woodard, who has likewise been in the employ of Mr. Ball for some time, are going to unite their wealth and talent and open up in the room formerly occupied by the 99-cent store in the Eddy block!"
According to one of our old friends and contributors the circus business, long thought dead or dying, has come back with a bang this year. More shows are on the road, the big ones are bigger, and all are earning good money. For members of the Circus Fans Association and Circus Historical Society, this is good news. Local members Pete Pepke and David L. Gibb have attended quite a few shows. Pepke saw the Hagen Bros. Circus in Grove City, the King Bros. Circus in Brookville, the Polack Bros. Circus in Erie, and the Clyde Beatty and Cole Bros. Combined Circus in Dunkirk and West Seneca, N.Y. Gibb and Pepke saw the Beers and Barnes Circus, the Hamid-Morton Circus in Pittsburgh, and the Mills Bros. Circus in Erie. Other shows are coming thru the area, and large or small, circus day is still a day that many people hold dear.
The Titusville Herald prints the following editorial under the heading "Centennial Hats," which has reference to a picture distributed by The Associated Press showing Governor Mendenhall wearing a "Centennial Week" hat, appearing elsewhere in this issue: "When Governor Lawrence signed the proclamation Monday for Colonel Drake Week Aug. 23-29, he and the senators around the table donned top hats, at the instigation of the news photographers. The point is that the hats are not historically correct, despite the good intentions of the photographers. They are Fred Astaire-type silk hats, not the stovepipe of the Lincoln era which Colonel Drake wore. All the other hats which our residents are wearing to add Centennial flavor to the town are also not in keeping with the early 1860's. There is an exception — one style of the derby seems to match what the men wore when Mather photographed them. 'Tis a pity when

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★
Retiring Army Chief Taylor Has Missions Yet to Tackle
BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—General Maxwell Davenport Taylor, who retires June 30 as U.S. Army chief of staff, told a National Press Club audience one of the real reasons he was quitting the service.
"For four years," said the brilliant General, "I've struggled to the best of my ability to modernize the United States Army, and my success has been limited. There's one thing I could do for the cause. I could withdraw an obsolete general. And that I propose to do."
In retiring, General Taylor has the satisfaction of knowing that in General Lyman L. Lemnitzer he is leaving an experienced, highly intelligent officer to take his place. But Taylor admits that he is leaving most of his problems to his successor.
It raises the question, however, of why the United States has to lose the services of a general such as Taylor. He is only 57. He is in excellent health. He has announced no definite plans for the future.
GENERAL TAYLOR MIGHT SOON HAVE BECOME ELIGIBLE for appointment as chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, as it is the Army's "turn" to head JCS next.
General Nathan Twining of the Air Force, present JCS chairman, is recovering from a cancer operation. He is not expected to return to active duty for another month.
His present term expires August 14. He has been reappointed for another two-year term which he may or may not fill.
In retiring, Taylor may do some writing, to see if he can put over some ideas he could not put over while in uniform.
One of the great problems on which General Taylor was apparently frustrated is the need for a complete reappraisal of United States military and strategic objectives.
HE BELIEVES THAT THE STRATEGIC CONCEPT of "massive retaliation" has now been invalidated.
He thinks there should be a new determination of the kinds of forces the United States needs for strategic retaliation, for continental air defense, for limited wars on the ground and for new submarine warfare.
Having determined these things, Taylor thinks that the entire budget-making processes in department of defense should be recast. He thinks that budgeting should be done not in terms of how much for Army, Navy and Air Force, but in terms of military functions.
Now it so happens that Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy's annual top-secret conference of 150 service secretaries, assistant secretaries, deputies, field commanders and Pentagon admirals and generals was held at Quantico Marine Base the last weekend in June.
IT WAS JUST THE PLACE where problems such as General Taylor has posed should have been dealt with. But the probabilities are that they will not be solved there.
The Defense budgets for next year are now practically set. Congress has been convinced that the four insufficiencies which Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force complain of separately add up to a national sufficiency to meet any crisis for the next year, anyway.
So, like General Matthew B. Ridgeway who preceded him, Taylor leaves his position as army chief of staff with some feeling that his mission has not been fully accomplished.
A man can butt his head against a stone wall just so long. Then he bows out, as gracefully as he can.

How to Keep Well

STINGING THE BITING INSECTS
REPELLANTS are of little value in warding off stinging insects like the honey bee and the wasp. These critters mean business when they attack and are not inclined to let the odor of chemicals stand in their way. But the repellants are effective against biting insects like the mosquito, whose sole concern is food.
Most insects find dark clothing more attractive than the white or light colored fabric. Smooth, hard finished khaki, drill, or nylon is less likely to encourage insects than dark blue serge or denim. Beekkeepers know this trick and it might be helpful to those who plan to spend a vacation out of doors. The odor of sweat irritates bees and attracts mosquitoes. Bees hate animal aromas, hence steer clear of suede and other leathers.
Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies letter.
Bees are likely to settle on scented clothing or hair, possibly because of the perfume smells like flowers. But when the bee discovers the error he may retaliate. Bees may get caught in a woman's hair but this mishap can be avoided by wearing a scarf or shawl on occasions when the insects are likely to be encountered.
Dr. R. A. Morse and Dr. R. L. Ghent, Cornell entomologists, assert the ordinary bee is not inclined to sting when encountered in the garden unless it is touched, molested, or trodden upon. Stinging or biting insects tend to attack moving objects and one of the worst things to do is to flail wildly at an approaching bee.
According to these authorities, it is better to shield the face with the hands and back away slowly. As an alternative, assume a prone position on the ground with the face covered, or move slowly into nearby bushes or shrubs. A running retreat is advised only when a colony of bees or a nest of wasps is disturbed accidentally.
In such instances, anyone in the vicinity is likely to be stung.
Insects are not active at low temperatures and rarely are encountered when the thermometer is below 55 degrees Fahrenheit. Bees seldom leave the hive on dull or damp days whereas mosquitoes and other biting insects are most active at these times, especially when the weather is hot.

K. Z. writes: Why is the pain of bursitis more severe at night than during the day?

Distress is more acute in bursitis, arthritis, or joint injury when the affected part is moved after a period of rest. In addition, pain always seems worse at night, possibly because of differences in weather conditions or disturbed sleep.

No. A new scar appears only if immunity has waned and a new "take" occurs.

Kidney failure, especially if the individual is drinking enough water and is developing dropsy.

NEW YORK (AP)—The spotlight on steel is keeping much of the rest of this year's labor-management bargaining in comparative shadow.
But some important contracts already have been made—averaging under 10 cents an hour in wage and fringe benefits but running as high as 14 cents on average in the building trades.
Coming up for negotiations are new contracts in copper, aluminum, rubber and meat packing. A number of unions apparently are waiting to see what the steelworkers settle for before making their own demands public. About one million workers are getting pay hikes automatically due to contracts previously negotiated.
The importance of steel as a pattern-setter is stressed in the July letter of the First National City Bank of New York, which holds that "if wage-price spiraling is to be arrested, a major industry must set the example."
While many corporation presidents are stressing stiff resistance to increasing operation costs, most who are polled feel that labor costs in general will rise about four per cent this year.
This eventually will be spelled out in consumer terms by an average price rise of two per cent, top management estimates.
Pressure from Washington concentrates largely on making the big issue—in the eye of the public—inflation. The administration warns that wages and prices keep chasing each other—a rise in either leading to a compensating rise in the other—with no end in sight.
Tied in with this has been the pressure for more mechanization—seeking to cut labor costs by turning more of the work over to machines.
To see what presidents of leading corporations think will come out of all of the bargaining and all the threats, the business management magazine, Dun's Review & Modern Industry, polled 125—seven out of 10 of them heading companies listed among the 500 largest industrial firms in the United States.
Four in 10 rate the top men in the union they deal with as excellent or good. And many of the others join in expressing respect for the union chief's capability, realism, toughness, honesty, maturity, conscientiousness or understanding of business.
But about a third doubt that union leadership is improving—in the sense that management uses the word. They cite cases of what they call growing union arrogance, corruption and strong-arm tactics.
The survey shows the prexies increasingly resisting demands for more fringe benefits, but more than half of the presidents expect this year's contracts to show fringe increases of from one to three cents an hour.

Jean Elder was matron of honor and bridesmaids included Phyllis Loomis, Lucille Haner and Violet Lusiano, gowned similarly in blue and pink satin, and having carnation corsages. Kathy Loomis was the flower girl; David Loomis, ringbearer.

Kenneth Loomis acted as best man, with Norman Haner, James and Norman Fisher as ushers.

Mothers of the principals chose navy blue with white accessories.

A reception followed at the home of the newlyweds. Aides were Mrs. Tom Fisher, Mrs. Sam Fisher, Mrs. Norman Fisher, Mrs. Loretta Fisher, Mrs. Jack Rodgers, Mrs. Alice Graham.

ay Purchases of Bonds Reach $59,955

Purchases of series E and savings bonds in Warren county reached $59,955 during the week ending July 1, reports H. W. Conarro, chairman of the United States Savings Bonds Committee for the county.

For the state as a whole, savings purchases amounted to $2,240,980. The total for the week to date now stands at $7,688,113 representing 37.9 per cent of the state's $468,000 quota.

A bill is pending in Congress, which, if passed, will raise the interest rate on U. S. Savings Bonds to 3 1/2 per cent.

Charles S. Krumrine, chairman, Pennsylvania Savings Bonds Committee, reminded Pennsylvanians that this legislation will make the interest retroactive to June 1 and that there was no advantage in delaying the purchase of savings bonds to gain the high interest.

Pipe That Helped Revolutionize Transportation

The Van Syckel pipeline, laid 5 1/2 miles from Pithole to Miller Farm in 1865, was the first successful crude oil pipeline and revolutionized the transportation of oil. A two-inch wrought iron line, it was dug up in the mid-1870's when production in Pithole region dwindled to almost nothing. The salvagers did not quite get it all. They missed this 16-foot section, being shown by James B. Stevenson, publisher of the Titusville

Herald dressed in a costume of the Pithole period, to Mrs. Dorothy Newton, guide for the vanished city's wagon tours dressed as French Kate, notorious Pithole character. The section is on display at the souvenir shop in Pithole. A 12-foot section was dug up by Lenn G. McCorty or Herman, Pa. last year. — Engraving Titusville Herald.

Reminder for Holiday Drivers

Here is the manner in which the Pittsburgh Bureau of The Associated Press has arranged to assemble information about traffic accidents, drownings and miscellaneous deaths over the Fourth of July weekend. It is printed in the hopes that it will inspire local motorists planning to be on the highways to use extreme care and caution:

EDITORS:

"Deaths in traffic accidents, drownings and from miscellaneous causes will be rounded up over the July 4 weekend from 6 p.m. local time Friday, July 3, through midnight Sunday, July 5.

"To hold patching of the story to a minimum and allow for speedy revision the changing figures will be confined to an at-a-glance table preceding the story. This table may be updated at will from the hourly log notes reading:

"11 p.m. EDT 20 traffic, 10 drownings, 10 miscellaneous. Total 40.

Celebration Notes!

Tomorrow is the big day and already we note the town beginning to fill up with people. In the last few days we have spotted license plates from as far afield as New Mexico, Georgia and even Texas. We like to think that all these people have been drawn to Warren by tales of our fabulous Fourth. But even if they weren't, they still have a wonderful treat in store for them.

In case you have to get through town for some reason while the parade is in progress tomorrow morning you ought to know that there is a definite plan for handling traffic that approaches Warren. Traffic entering on Pennsylvania Ave. from the west will be routed up Beech Street, down Fourth Ave. to Market and thence either out of town on Route 62 or across Fifth St. to Prospect, down Prospect to Pennsylvania and out of town on Route 6. Traffic approaching from either the East or the North will follow the same route in reverse except that it will be fed back to Pennsylvania Ave. from Fourth Ave. on Pine St.

It looks at this writing as though the weatherman is going to be the hero of the day tomorrow. Forecast is for a clear, cool day, which, if true, will be gratefully accepted by both participants and spectators alike.

The Celebration Committee members are reminded that tonight will be another night of work. Following the selection of the Queen at Beatty School, a work detail will start from Beatty and post the No Parking signs along the Parade Route. The Reviewing stand will also be moved into position.

The final event for the Celebration Committee will be in the nature of relaxation following a week of arduous work. A Post Fourth Party for all members of the Committee plus everyone who has contributed in any way to the Celebration will be held at the Old Oakview on Cornwagway Ave. extension. The party is scheduled to begin following the conclusion of the presentation of the Grand Prizes tomorrow night. Hugh Siggins is Chairman for the event.

Arriving tonight are the colorful and dashing Don Mills Skyriders from Canada. These boys have appeared in the past three 4th of July parades here and look forward to their annual trip to Warren. The prize winning Corps will be billeted in the Spot where the committee has set up sixty beds.

YOUNGSMVILLE

YOUNGSMVILLE—Participating in the 28th District American Legion Parade at Oil City last Saturday were 66 members of the Youngsville Firemen's Band and Legion Marching Unit, the band taking first place, the marching group second in an entry list of 42 units for the four divisions.

The community can certainly be proud of these units, most of their competitors having been much larger towns and cities. Both will be participating in the Warren Fourth of July Celebration Saturday and, since this will be the first opportunity for many local persons to see them, it is hoped many will be on hand when the parade starts at 11:00 a. m.

After the Oil City parade, the band and marching unit returned as quickly as possible to Youngsville to attend a party given by the two groups for Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hodges, newlyweds. Jack is a prominent member of the marching unit and his wife, Shirley, has been among fair ladies loyally attending parades. The Legion extends its congratulations to the couple and wishes them a long and happy marriage.

The party started off slowly, but soon a mouthorgan appeared and, as the band returned, other instruments joined in for round and square dancing in a full hall. Not only did the function honor the young people, but it was the first combined party for the band and marching unit and did much to cement relations between the two.

Veteran Worker Honored

A farewell testimonial dinner was held Wednesday evening at the Penn Laurel dining room by 46 office co-workers of William (Bill) L. Baumbach, who will retire July 10. The affair was sponsored by members of the American Federation of Technical Engineers, Local No. 55, of which Mr. Baumbach is a charter member. The management of Struthers Wells Company and office employees, Local No. 186, cooperated to make the affair such a success.

Mr. Baumbach started with Struthers Wells Company December 1, 1941. Since then he has built up the reproduction and printing department to one of leadership in the area. For years he has served faithfully as an officer of the union, the engineer's club and currently is a member of the joint company-union welfare committee.

The office girls presented him with a hand-tooled leather billfold made by Ben Bigelow and bearing a symbol of a favorite pastime, fishing.

Fred W. Emhardt, chief engineer of Struthers Wells, presented him with a Polaroid land camera assembly in behalf of management. The recipient has been a camera fan for many years.

Leo L. Gleese, in behalf of Local 55, presented the honored guest with a purse as a token of esteem Mr. Baumbach, with a few well chosen words, expressed his appreciation to all who helped make the party such a success.

Following his retirement, Mr. Baumbach has planned a fishing trip with friends in Canada, to be followed by a trip to Florida.

The committee in charge consisted of Gordon Titus, Mary Barrett, Wilms Tichner, Kurt Johnson, Louis Lind and Leo Gleese. Ray Marti offered the invocation and led in group singing.

he may hope to wring more concessions from the West later this month.

It would be foolish to hold Khrushchev's threats and warnings lightly. But it would hardly make sense for American government officials to get pneumonia every time Khrushchev sneezed.

The whole point is simply this: any toughness he's showing, or Kozlov is showing, is exactly the same toughness the Soviets have been showing all along. There's nothing new in that.

It would be new if they did anything else.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

The Faith Americans Live By

"Lord, thou deliverest unto me five talents: behold I have gained beside them five talents more. His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

Mat. 25:20-1

That was the parable which the minister of the Methodist-operated Community Center at Los Angeles repeated as he pressed a half dollar into the hand of Nicolasa Delencas, who worked there as a janitress.

Days later, Nicolasa handed the minister $17.50. With the 50 cents she had bought cheese and tortillas, made enchiladas and sold them for $35; she was returning to the Center half her gain.

Months passed and Nicolasa, with $100 in her savings account, remembered the poor in her native Mexico. From her brother she obtained the names of 33 orphans in San Luis, and 33 in another town. Also of 33 old people who hadn't enough to eat. "Thirty-three was the number of years Christ lived," she explained, "and I want to say happy birthday to the Baby Jesus."

So it was that last Christmas 66 orphans, 33 elderly persons and four convicts in Mexico received Christmas gifts from a charwoman in the United States. None knew whom to thank for Nicolasa had not given her name. "Thank Jesus," she said.

RADIO and TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—While many other shows on television will be awash with the spirit of patriotism, the Perry Presents show will really do something different Saturday night.

While others honor the nation's birthday, the NBC show will pay musical tribute to the birthdays of P.T. Barnum and Adm. Farragut and the anniversaries of the invention of the shoe-making machine and the founding of Paris, France.

Sunday promises some interesting viewing for those who prefer television to bumper-to-bumper driving. Johns Hopkins File on ABC will take a look at Copernicus, father of modern astronomy, immediately followed on the same network by College News Conference interviewing Dr. James B. Conant, former president of Harvard.

Autoists stalled in homecoming holiday traffic might enjoy Sunday's Suspense story on CBS radio. This one, called "Blood Is Thicker," is concerned with the Trans-Pacific yacht race. It was written by Sam Pierce, who at the time of the broadcast will be a member of the crew of a yacht actually in the race.

On Monday, NBC will do a special news program on Queen Elizabeth's Chicago visit. The Joseph Cotten Show, a clutch of reruns with a new host—takes over the Ann Sothern spot that evening.

The All-Star baseball game from Pittsburgh will be both televised and broadcast by radio Tuesday on NBC. The one real premiere of the week is the Andy Williams Show, summer replacement for Garry Moore, on CBS.

Dave King, on Wednesday night, will do a spoof of Charles Laughton.

Thursday's Playhouse 90 on CBS is a repeat of "Seven Against the Wall"—all about Chicago gang warfare. On Friday there will be a new episode (not a repeat) of Rawhide (CBS).

State Obscenity Law Is Declared Unconstitutional

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Pennsylvania's 20-year-old obscenity law has been declared unconstitutional by the State Supreme Court, thus leaving authorities powerless to combat movies and live performances they believe corrupt.

In a controversial 5-2 decision Thursday, the high court voided the provision of the penal code which bans exhibitions "of a lascivious, sacrilegious, obscene, in decent or immoral nature."

The action followed the recent U.S. Supreme Court decision striking down New York state's ban on the movie, "Lady Chatterley's Lover."

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled last Monday that the New York state movie censorship law was unconstitutional.

Pennsylvania authorities were left helpless since they had relied altogether on the obscenity statute since 1936 when the Pennsylvania Supreme Court killed the state's motion picture censorship law.

Meanwhile, legislative leaders in Harrisburg agreed that the ruling needed thorough study in order to determine the far reaching effects of the decision.

In a companion ruling, the Supreme Court sent back to the Common Pleas Court of Philadelphia the case involving the showing here 17 months ago of Brigitte Bardot's film "And God Created Woman."

The appeal was made by Kingsley International Pictures Corp. of New York against efforts of District Atty. Victor H. Blanc to prevent the picture from being shown here.

The Supreme Court found in a majority opinion by Chief Justice Jones that the lower court had erred in dismissing Kingsley's bill.

of complaint against Blanc.

In other decisions the Supreme Court:

1. Upheld the dismissal of Joseph Bell, George E. Tarr and William Killeen from the Pittsburgh police force for alleged unbecoming conduct.

Held that a on etashrdushr

2. Held that a one-man barber shop is outside the scope of collective bargaining and that a union oversteps its rights when it pickets such a place.

3. Ruled negligence "imputable" to Dr. Edgar L. Pennell Jr., a staff surgeon at Episcopal Hospital in Philadelphia, for the administration of penicillin to a patient who was allergic to the drug.

The drug actually was given by another doctor with the permission of Dr. Pennell.

The Supreme Court action thus upheld a $75,000 damage verdict awarded to the patient, William J. Yorton, a Philadelphia carpenter, in Common Pleas Court here.

Yorton contended he suffered a reaction from three shots of penicillin which gave him a stroke and left him with permanent damages.

Injured Tigers Hobble Back Into Third Place Position

By ED WILKS

Detroit's injured Tigers have hobbled back into third place, just two games short of the American League lead. And Charlie Maxwell's bat has been their clutch.

At the moment the Tigers are without outfielders Al Kaline and Johnny Groth and infielders Frank Bolling and Ted Lepcio. Pitcher Jim Banning hopes to come back today. Yet they've won three in a row and four of their last five — and Maxwell's been the big man in all four successes.

Thursday night he scored twice and beat the second-place Chicago White Sox 9-7 with his 18th homer — a grand-slam in the eighth inning.

Groat Continues To Justify Selection With All-Stars

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Shortstop

Dick Groat of the Pittsburgh Pirates, picked by Fred Haney for the National League All-Star team, is showing his selection was no fluke.

Haney announced Groat's selection Tuesday. That night Groat slammed a ninth-inning homer—his fifth of the year—to propel the Pirates to a 4-3 victory over Philadelphia.

And Thursday night it was Groat again. His bases-loaded single in the 10th earned the Pirates a 4-3 victory over Haney's league-leading Braves.

The Braves committed four errors, two in each inning the Pirates scored. Only two of the Pirates' four runs were earned. The winning run in the 10th off reliever and loser Don McMahon was unearned.

Consecutive miscues by shortstop Casey Wise and McMahon put Ted Kluszewski and Vernon Law on first and second. Bill Virdon then bunted safely to fill the bases. Groat's single to right won the game.

Law went the distance to score his 9th victory against 5 losses. Shortly before Thursday night's game, Roy Face learned that he was selected as the National League Player of the Month of June. Face received 30 out of a possible 40 votes, the greatest number of votes a player has received from the committee who does the selection.

During June, Roy won five of his 12 games and had an earned average of 0.37. Pirate first baseman Dick Stuart was runner-up.

Tonight, the Pirates and Braves close out their two-game series. Juan Pizarro (1-1) will face George Wirt (0-5).

Black Knights In Meadville Play Tonight

Black Knights of Betts Machine Company open tournament play tonight at Meadville in the third contest of the annual softball tournament held there.

Betts will play Erie Koehlers at 8:30 p. m. Knights batters will be facing such hurlers as Rome and Brandon, formerly of Erie Fultons and Erie OSI, respectively.

"We'll certainly try to do Warren justice while representing our city in such tough competition" as the tournament has, Manager Ange Regina said today.

First game puts Erie OSI against defending champs, Farrell Num-Nums. Number two team last season. Meadville Peeps, Betts Sementellis of Erie, Betts finished third last year.

Other two teams grappling for the coveted first and second prizes, trophies and prestige are Erie and Olean. New York Bambs, who held the only two victories over Black Knights in weekend independent play last season.

"This appears to be one of the toughest fields in tournament play ever assembled," Regina said, adding, "a few breaks and any team of the field could walk away with the lustrous sought after crown."

"Firecracker 50" Saturday's Race At Stateline Oval

Another first for Stateline Speedway is the inauguration of the "Firecracker 50" racing event which is hoped to be an annual race.

The fifty-lap event will climax the biggest evening of entertainment yet scheduled at the Stateline oval.

Preceded by a full card of prelims, the feature will start at 8:30, with a large fireworks display at intermission.

A $2,000 purse has been guaranteed by Stateline, insuring not only a large field of cars, but also increasing the so called "will to win."

Emory Mahan, Warren, is eighth at Stateline in point standings with 204; eighth at Bradford with 196; and seventh in Independent Racing Assn. with 400. Bud Gard-Stateline with 174.

Brookway leadfoot Squire Johns, who got off this season to the best start of his career, by winning four features in a row, is perhaps the jockey to beat tomorrow.

Hyle Russell of Kane, who drives the fabulous No. 4, has won his last two feature starts. These were both of last week-end's main events at Stateline and Bradford racing ovals. Hyle is top man at Stateline with 362 points and is second in IRA Circuit Point race.

Bob Schnars, Busti, is a top contender for the top dough and trophy.

The seven-event racing slate begins at 8:30.

Johansson Lifts Boxing From Its Recent Sick Bed

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—This is the story of an amazing young man who quickly restored to the heavyweight championship of the world the prestige and dignity to which it is so richly entitled. Ingemar Johansson may not prove to be as great a fighter as some of his illustrious predecessors. But the 26-year-old Swede with the "pounder and lightning" in his right fist has the quiet elegance of James J. Corbett, the animal magnetism of Jack Dempsey, the studious determination of Gene Tunney and the simple sincerity of Joe Louis.

FOR SOME STRANGE REASON, Rocky Marciano never really caught on with the public. So Johansson is the first heavyweight champion people have followed on the streets since Louis.

Knocking out Floyd Patterson with the savagery of Dempsey, he gave prize fighting its biggest boost, especially internationally, since the Manassas Mauler established the million-dollar gate. And at a time when it most needed a shot in the arm.

Johansson is by far the most casual of all heavyweight champions. Even after firing the shot heard round the world he insisted that to him boxing was a by-product. After a brief vacation in Florida, he was flying back to Göteborg. There was much to be done in connection with his heavy contracting business and fishing boat.

WEAT MANNER OF MAN is it who grows from a frightened, cowering youth who was deprived of all honors in the Olympic Games to the self-assured, methodical, murderous fighting machine, which annihilated Patterson?

SPORTS

Life of New Champion

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — How does it feel to be heavyweight champion of the world?
"It's the same. I feel no different. Only there are more interviews and pictures."
That's what Ingemar Johansson said a few days after he knocked out Floyd Patterson to win boxing's most prized crown.
There's been no outward change in Johansson since he won the title. He's been pleasant and patient as ever.
In the ring, the handsome, blue-eyed Viking showed he had the killer instinct that made Joe Louis famous.
In public, Ingo is warm and affable. Handsome as a model, he bears a striking resemblance to the Charles Lindbergh of 1927 flight to Paris fame.
Ingo right now feels he would like to fight at least for three or four more years.
"I like to box," he said. "I don't love it, but I have always liked it."
A return fight with Patterson figures to bring him close to a million dollars. He made about $250,000 for the first fight, although it's being held in escrow to guarantee the return bout.
Patterson grossed about $1,600,000 in ring earnings, most of it since he won the title by knocking out Archie Moore Nov. 30, 1956.
Johansson places most of his earnings into his construction and card-moving firm.
"When I first made good money in boxing I found that I pay most of it in taxes," said Ingo. "Now I put my money into equipment for my business. Under Swedish tax laws, my investment gets paid out in four or five years."
He sells gravel and dirt, builds foundations, and has a trucking fleet. He has bulldozers and steam shovels. He recently bought a fishing trawler for $100,000.
Before the Patterson fight, it was believed he had about $300,000 invested in his business.
He is a clothes model on the side and makes a lot extra with endorsements. Johansson stands 6 feet, 4 inch and weighs 186. He has a huge wardrobe.
Ingo was married at 17 and divorced at 18. He has a daughter, Jean, by that marriage.
His command of English (American version) is good.
"I learned it by watching American movies with Swedish subtitles," said Johansson.

St. Louis Fan Is Jailed After Bout With the Umpire

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — "I'd never do it again," said a husky St. Louis baseball fan who lost his temper Thursday night, strode onto the playing field and fought with plate umpire Bill Jackowski. It was the first such incident in major league baseball in almost 20 years.
"I feel like a convict," 25-year-old John Watts told a reporter, who interviewed him in jail.
"I just got excited and I had been drinking a little. That was a bad call. The umpires are running the Cardinals this year."
The 200-pound Watts was charged with inciting a riot, peace disturbance, resisting arrest and suspicion of assault. He'll appear in City Court today.
Watts' temper boiled over in the seventh inning. Rookie Gene Oliver of the Cardinals foul-tipped a two-strike pitch and Jackowski ruled that catcher John Roseboro held the ball for a third strike. The Cardinals claimed Roseboro dropped the ball.
Manager Solly Hemus and Coach Harry Walker argued too vigorously and were promptly kicked out of the game.
Watts walked onto the field and advanced on Jackowski.
Jackowski saw him coming and the struggle was on. Several good punches were exchanged by both men before the 220-pound Jackowski apparently wrestled Watts down. Several players, including Roseboro and Oliver, helped subdue Watts. Watts had lost his personal vendetta and as it turned out the Cardinals lost the ball game 4-0 to Los Angeles.
The last umpire-fan fight was on Sept. 16, 1940, when Frank Germano, then 21, pummeled Umpire George Magarkuth at Brooklyn's Ebbets Field.

Drag Races Sunday On Enlarged Strip

Expansion of the drag strip at Dunkirk Airport has brought drivers with souped up cars from Canada, Pennsylvania and Ohio for Sunday afternoon races.
The new track, 150 feet by 4400 feet, is only three weeks old and has established the reputation as being the fastest, safest and best set up in the east.
Because of the long, slow-down area, drivers have no fear of keeping their foot on the pedal through the traps to obtain top speeds.
Near record speeds for all classes have been run on the "new" track. Anthony Centra of Dunkirk, in a stock Ford, raced to a speed of 101.126 MPH from a standing start in one-quarter mile. Track record is 134.140 MPH. Boys who set the record feel after a few changes, they will crack 150 MPH.
Drag strip at Dunkirk runs every Sunday from 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Ingemar Scheduled To Fly Home on Saturday

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Ingemar Johansson who left Sweden as an underdog challenger, starts his return to his homeland today as king of world heavyweights. He was scheduled to fly home Saturday.
He plans to return to the United States within 10 days to consider numerous offers for personal appearances.

Moore-Durrelle Bout May Be Postponed

MONTREAL (AP)—The Archie Moore-Yvon Durrelle title rematch may be postponed two weeks from July 15 to July 29.
Jack (Doc) Kearns, manager of the world light heavyweight champion, said Thursday he has asked promoter Eddie Quinn for the postponement. He claimed Moore recently suffered a bad bone bruise in his heel.
The 15-round title bout was a major promotion on the regular Wednesday night network television (ABC) program.
SMITH "EXPECTING"
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "You don't resign, you get fired," said Manager Mayo Smith of Cincinnati today when asked if he planned to quit the seventh-place Reds. Smith said that no club officials had brought any pressure upon him to resign. There had been reports that Smith might be on his way out.

Mary Hafey Plans New Try To Swim Lake Erie

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Mary Hafey who failed in an attempt to swim Lake Erie last summer plans to try again.
Miss Hafey has not set a definite date for her swim; but she said it would be sometime this month or early in August. For the past few weeks she has been swimming about three miles each day.
Miss Hafey will start the swim from Presque Isle, Erie, and try to finish 29 miles away at Long Point, Ontario, Canada. Last year she was 12 miles out from Erie when she was forced to give up.
No woman has ever succeeded in swimming the lake.

Rumors Grow Higgins May Be on Way Out

BALTIMORE (AP) — The tag-end Boston Red Sox, under growing pressure after losing their last five games, begin a four-game series against the Orioles tonight — with the doctor watching every move.
The doctor is General Manager Bucky Harris, called in by owner Tom Yawkey to find out what's wrong with the sickly patient.
Rumors grew at home that Manager Mike Higgins' days might be numbered, but Higgins flatly denied reports published in Boston that he might quit over the weekend.

Air Force in '62

Penn State will inaugurate football relations with United States Air Force Academy in 1962. Air Force will visit University Park on Sept. 29 of that year. It is expected that Penn State will be playing home games in its new 45,500-capacity stadium by that date. State will face all three major service-academy teams within four weeks.

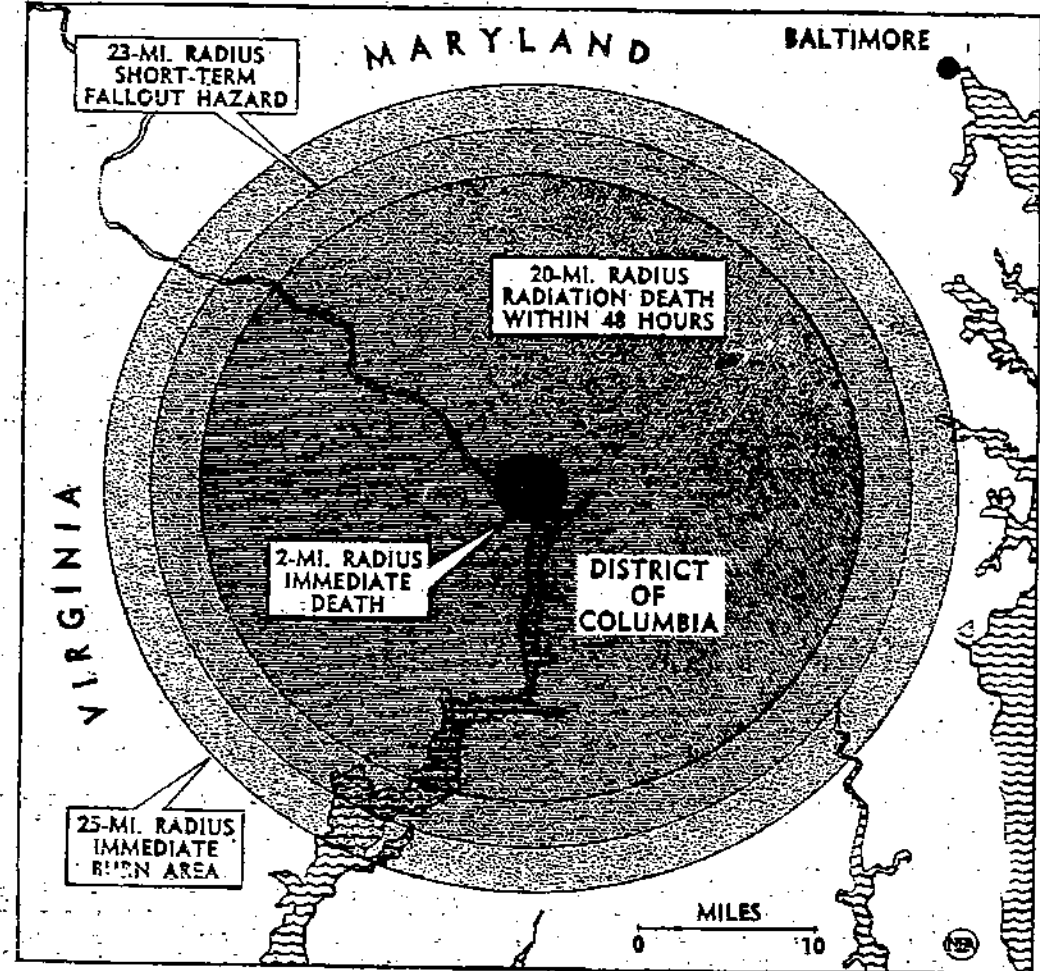

Penn State Captain

A successor to Ed Moran of James City as captain of Penn State's track team for the 1960 season, has been announced. He is Dick Engelbrink, 21-year-old distance specialist from Glenside. Dick holds Penn State's 2-mile record, 8:58.9. Engelbrink will also serve as Nittany Lions' cross-country captain this fall.

TRIBUTE TO "ROCKY"

To the Editor:
I was watching a little man by the name of "Rocky" sweeping our down town streets this morning . . . I think that anyone that takes that much pride in their work, should know his efforts are noticed and appreciated. I heard so many remark about him . . . "You never see him leaning on his shovel." — One Who's Noticed.

CIRCUMFERENCE OF HORROR—If a 10-megaton nuclear bomb (one megaton equals one million tons of TNT) exploded above the Capitol Building in Washington, exposed persons as far away as 25 miles would suffer second-degree burns. Map above, is based on testimony by a Pentagon expert. Low-level radiation alone could kill every unprotected person within a radius of two miles from ground zero. Residual radiation would kill exposed persons in an area of 1,300 square miles within 48 hours. Short-term fallout, lasting hours, days or months, would be lethal over 1,500 square miles. Total area subject to firestorms and burns would encompass 2,000 square miles.

Milwaukee Bid for Third Straight Appears Wobbly

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
No Red Schoendienst, no John Logan, no payoff power of late and almost no lead. That's the tale of Milwaukee's bid for a third straight National League pennant.
The Braves had it tough enough when they lost Schoendienst, batting .78, at second base. Now they've got a bigger hole in the middle with Logan, injured Sunday, missing at short.
The champs, who have gotten only three home runs from big guys Ed Matthews and Wes Covington in the past three weeks, have won only two of their last six games, all but blowing a two-game lead. They've made 10 errors in those half-dozen games—eight of them at second and short.
Felix Mantilla and Casey Wise, both filling in at short, and John O'Brien produced three of four

LANDING BASS WITHOUT A NET
SOME EXPERT BASS FISHERMEN NEVER USE A LANDING NET, NOR "HORSE" A BASS OUT OF THE WATER. THEY PLAY A BASS UNTIL IT IS EXHAUSTED, THEN LEAD IT IN CLOSE SO IT CAN BE LIFTED BY GRASPING ITS LOWER JAW. PLACING THUMB INSIDE AND PRESSING THUMB UNDER JAW, PARALYZES A BASS WHILE UNHOOKING AND STRIKING IT.

Briton Finally Seeded In Wimbledon Games

By ROBERT JONES
WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Britain still can take it—as far as watching tennis is concerned.
This year, for the first time since those distant days before the second World War when men wore long trousers and women hadn't heard of frilly panties and champagne wigs, a Briton—Bob Wilton—was seeded in the men's bracket.
Two British girls — Christine Truman and Angela Mortimer—were given the two top places in the women's singles.

★ GRAYSON'S SCOREBOARD ★

Two All-Star Games Are for Greedy Owners

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
NEW YORK (NEA)—The All-Star Game—in this case Games—stresses how far baseball has been taken away from the fans.
The original game is being staged at Forbes Field in Pittsburgh, July 7, a second edition, for the first time, in the Los Angeles Coliseum, Aug. 3. If two, why not three or maybe one on every off day, anything to fatten the pension fund and further satisfy money-hungry owners?
Arch Ward, the sports editor, originated the show in 1933 over the violent objections of the magnates. Ward sought an added attraction for the Chicago World's Fair. He gave the dull major league proprietors a matchless idea, one altogether too big for them to grasp and one they have almost totally destroyed.
This was the game of the people. Millions of them elected the combatants. Through this, tremendous newspapers and later radio and television stations devoted space and time to the business for weeks.
Now the paying guests must wait to be told who the players chose and, frankly, they couldn't care less. Those who pay the freight no longer have a voice in the matter.
THERE WERE AMUSING stories and a surprise or two as Frank Stocum, leg man for Commissioner Ford C. Frick, toured the leagues polling the noble athletes. As the lone unanimous selection, Henry Aaron definitely was established as the player most respected by those whom he does his best to thump. Al Kaline over Mickey Mantle by 18 votes makes you think.
With Wally Moon and Bill White, both traded this spring, running one-two you wonder what the National League is using for left fielders. Moon can't throw well but doesn't have to in the monstrosity that is left field in the Los Angeles football acreage. He can kick the ball in from there.
The balloting further emphasized the power of the long poke. This gave Ernie Banks, who has little range at shortstop, the call there on the National League side and made Harmon Killebrew the choice over the thoroughly accomplished Frank Malzone as the Americans' third baseman.
THERE WAS THE PITCHER who voted for Ken Boyer over Eddie Mathews.
"How could you put Boyer ahead of Mathews?" he was asked by teammates.
"I get Mathews out," he explained, "but I can't get Boyer out with a shotgun."
But the All-Star Game—or Games now—is in line with the general baseball policy of the last several years, during which the idealistic side of the game has been demolished.
Clubs that were household names were uprooted from cities where they had done well for more than 50 years. The land grab came into the picture. Baseball property was sold for capital gain and the game saddled with rental.
The star ballplayer is no longer a hero to the fan. He's a business man. He no longer discusses baseball. He speaks of residual contracts and wonders how many lanes in his bowling alley will be busy tonight.
The fan used to imagine that he was part of the game.
If the owners are smart they'd restore that illusion.

matter of FACT

Nearly half of the 50-mile length of the Panama Canal runs through Gatun Lake, artificially formed by damming up the Chagres River. Vessels approaching from the Atlantic side are lifted 85 feet to lake level by a series of three locks. Near the Pacific side is the eight-mile-long Gatun Cut. Vessels are then lowered 31 feet in one lock and a mile farther on two more locks lower them another 54 feet to sea level.

Traffic Safety Officials Muster Drive To Prevent Motorists Killing Selves

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic safety officials across the nation mustered all their strength and ingenuity today to keep motorists from killing themselves and others over the Fourth of July holiday weekend.

The National Safety Council predicted that 350 persons will die in traffic accidents during the 54-hour holiday period from 6 p. m. local time tonight to midnight Sunday.

The traffic death toll for the three-day July 4 weekend last year was 570.

State patrols prepared for a crushing volume of traffic.

In addition to swarms of patrol cars, plans called for the use of planes, electronic speed detection devices, "ghost" patrol cars strung along highways, roadblocks to watch out for tired or otherwise incapacitated drivers, and, in many instances, arrests instead of warnings for traffic law violations.

Civic and business organizations joined in to help stop the slaughter.

American Legionnaires at 45 points of entry into Iowa will hand out "Slow down and live" pamphlets to motorists. The Iowa Outdoor Advertising Assn. posted 150 billboards listing speed limits and warning of patrol planes and radar enforcement.

Connecticut, which boasts the nation's safest highways, adopted a new safety slogan and it's applicable all the time, not just this weekend. The slogan is "Drive safely—the car behind you may be a police car."

"Ghost" (unmanned) police cars will be waiting for the unwary driver on the New York State Thruway.

Montreal. Three other men had been seized last year in connection with the bonds.

The indictment charges that Rabin put up as security more than $138,000 worth of Canadian bonds at a Chicago bank in September and October 1958. It further charged him with fraud by wire in pledging $140,000 in stolen bonds to a Swiss bank.

Rabin has denied any knowledge the bonds were stolen.

The break in the case came, Parsons said, when a Swiss bank learned the bonds were stolen and notified police, who tipped the FBI.

Canadian police have located some of the bonds, Parsons said, and a man he named as Rene Martin has been sentenced to 12 years in jail in connection with the actual burglary.

At the hearing Thursday night in Pittsburgh, Mannarino tangled with a news photographer.

Later, before and after the short hearing, he hid his face with his hat and dark glasses and continually mopped his brow with a handkerchief.

His appearance before Commissioner McNaughton lasted about two minutes, during which time he admitted his name, acknowledged the charges and posted bond. After the proceedings, he ran for an elevator, shouting that the charges were "phony."

More Steel

Pressure from international and local union officers and a court order banning pickets resulted in a sufficient turnout on Republic's day shift to enable it to announce it would operate over the July 4 holiday. Holiday operation had been planned prior to the walkout Wednesday.

The plants here employ more than 8,000 men.

Another USW wildcat strike remains in a still unsettled state—a walkout of lake steamen which has resulted in the tie-up of about 30 ore carriers and a shutdown of U. S. Steel's Mesabi iron range mines which employ 4,300.

Joseph Chrobak, president of USW Local 5000, which represents 3,700 unlicensed seamen on 137 lake vessels, said he was obeying McDonald's order to "get the boats going." However, it will take a few days to round up crews of those ships already tied up, he added.

Republicans Are Denied Request for Equal Time

HARRISBURG (AP) — Republican leaders have been denied a request for "equal time" to answer Gov. Lawrence's tax message which for the first time was carried live Monday by four Pennsylvania television stations.

Don Wear, general manager of WTPA-TV, Harrisburg, spoke for all four stations Thursday in a letter to Sen. M. Harvey Taylor (R-Dauphin), Senate president pro tempore.

Lawrence's address was before a joint session of the Senate and House.

Taylor had asked for an equal amount of time to "answer the issues raised by the governor in his television broadcast" which also was carried by Scranton's WNEP and Pittsburgh's WTAE and KDKA.

Governor Proclaims "Colonel Drake Week"

Gov. David L. Lawrence, top hatted with friendly dignitaries, signs a proclamation designating August 23-29 as "Colonel Drake Week," honoring the 100th anniversary of the oil industry. Encouragement is offered by State Sens. James Berger,

The year 1959 marks the 100th anniversary of Colonel Drake's first well in Titusville, Pa. It was, therefore, proper that letters of congratulations from the governors of approximately 35 oil and gas producing states should be sent via pipeline to the governor of Pennsylvania in honor of the Oil Centennial. With this in mind, the letters were micro-filmed, inserted in a capsule which was attached to a pipeline scraper named "Pilgrim Petrolus" in honor of the occasion, and sent through a pipeline system from Corsica, Texas to Titusville, Pa., an underground journey of approximately 1250 miles.

These pipeline scrapers or "pigs" are used throughout the pipeline industry to clean the inside walls of the pipe by scraping and brushing away paraffin and crude-oil residue which would otherwise adhere to the pipe walls and eventually block the flow of oil completely. The scraper containing the micro-filmed message is taking the following route: From Corsicana the scraper has traveled 648 miles through the Magnolia Pipe Line Company's 20" line to Patoka, Ill.; 300 miles from there via their 10" line into Lima, Ohio. At Lima the capsule was transferred to the Buckeye Pipe Line Co. and goes through its 8" and 6" system to a point near Grove City, Pa., a distance of 260 miles. From there, on the final leg of its journey, it travels through 45 miles of 6" and 4" lines of the National Transit Company to Titusville, thus completing approximately 1250 miles of pipeline travel. From beginning to end, except where transferred between pipelines, this capsule-carrying scraper will have silently traveled beneath the surface of the 7 oil-producing states of Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and Pennsylvania.

After the scraper is received and the message read at the Titusville Oil Centennial Festival, the micro-film will then be enclosed in a time capsule, sealed and inserted in the Drake Well Memorial Park. The original letters from the governors will be on permanent display at the Drake Museum in Titusville. For its part in the Oil Centennial, The Buckeye Pipe Line Company has proudly shared in the oil industry since its incorporation in 1886, and has for more than 70 years been engaged in pipeline petroleum transportation. In addition to his duties as President of The Buckeye Pipe Line Company, George S. Patterson is also Chairman of the Pipeline Message Committee.

National Transit Company, making final delivery of the governors' message at Titusville, Pa., was incorporated in Pennsylvania under date of April 30, 1881, and was formerly a large holding company for the Standard Oil Company pipe lines. The early history of the company is a very interesting one. Previous to the organization of National Transit Company, various pipe lines were operating in the oil-producing areas in northwestern Pennsylvania and in southern New York State. Purchases were made by Naupon completion of $729,990.498.

Between 1957 and 1958 the declines in permits issued and dollar volume were 3.0 per cent and 5.9 per cent respectively. Nationally, in striking contrast, the dollar volume of building permits issued during 1958 was about 10 per cent above 1957.

In releasing the figures, Dept. of Labor and Industry said "It seems evident that the 1958 national recession was reflected in Pennsylvania's construction activity as well as in its employment figures in manufacturing and non-manufacturing industries."

Despite a strong upsurge in new residential building authorized during the second half of 1958, the aggregate dollar volume for the entire year of $841,914,310 fell 7.9 per cent short of the total reported for this category during 1957.

School and institution construction was at the lowest level of the past three years.

Four Pennsylvania counties, Allegheny, Philadelphia, Montgomery and Delaware, accounted for 58.6 per cent ($427,871,982) of Pennsylvania's 1958 total building permit activity dollar volume.

School projects dropped $8,000,000; factories down $2,000,000; office buildings declined $15,000,000; institutions showed a $2,000,000 drop; public works and utilities were down $10,000,000.

Stores and mercantile jumped up $8,000,000 and public building operations experienced a $4,000,000 rise.

Officials of 635 Pennsylvania permit-issuing municipalities authorized the construction of 89,106 projects with an estimated aggregate dollar value

The bidding by Stewart Evans and Mrs. Dale (Dot) Miller of Dallas is quite interesting.

Her four hearts was a dual purpose bid. She expected to have a play for it and also hoped to shut out the spade suit.

When West refused to be shut out Stewart jumped to six hearts. He was willing for Dot to play it and also willing to double six spades if East bid it.

East thought about bidding six spades but decided that Stewart was trying to, stampede him into that contract and chose what he thought was a sure thing double.

It wasn't! No defense could beat the hand. Mrs. Miller trumped the opening diamond in dummy, discarded her club on the ace of spades and started a cross ruff.

West slowed her down for a moment by trumping the third diamond but unfortunately for him he could not lead a trump so eventually Dot made all four of dummy's trumps, the ace of spades and her own seven trumps for a total of 12 tricks.

A—Double. You have a very good hand if your partner can bid hearts and anything else he does should be all right.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner responds to your double with a two-heart bid. What do you do now?

Religion in the News

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer

The Jewish population of the United States has risen to an estimated 5,260,000 yet there is evidence that it "is not keeping pace with the general population."

The figures are from the 1959 edition of the American Jewish Year Book, published last week by the American Jewish Committee and the Jewish Publication Society of America.

Some anxiety is expressed over the facts that (1) the average Jew is older than his Gentile fellow-citizen and (2) the average Jewish wife is bearing less children than her Gentile counterpart.

The year book's figures are adapted from the U.S. Bureau of Census report on population characteristics, released in 1958, which included a religious question for the first time.

They show that:
More than half (52.5 per cent) of the Jewish population is 35 years or older while considerably less than half (42.8 per cent) of the total population is in that age bracket.

The average Jewish woman in the 15 to 44 age grouping has 1.74 children while Roman Catholic women in the same age bracket have 2.28 and Protestants 2.22.

A year ago April, Arthur Jacobs of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations estimated that at the current rate only 2.2 out of every 100 Americans would be Jewish in 1975. The current ratio is 3.4.

The year book also comes up with these statistics on Judaism: The United States, with 5,260,000, is home for nearly half the world's estimated 12 million Jews.

The Soviet Union has some two million and Israel is third with 1,780,000.

Jews are much less likely to contract an interfaith marriage than are Roman Catholics and Protestants. Nearly 93 per cent of Jews marry within their faith. For Protestants the figure is 91 per cent and for Catholics 79 per cent.

State Unemployment Down to New Low

Total unemployment in Pennsylvania edged downward between mid-May and mid-June. The June estimate, 361,000, was 2,000 below the May figure. Its percent of the civilian labor force was also under May's percentage—7.7 percent as against 7.8 percent.

Unemployment figure for May is not yet available. Last year at this time, Pennsylvania's unemployment was estimated at 520,000, of 10.9 percent of the labor force. In June 1957, unemployment totaled 270,000 or 5.7 percent.
